

HALO OF RAIN

You've been to the world
Starring from the tower
Your fortune's been told Hammer to the stars
When carelessly love
Has been demanded
A flicker above
Shimmer thru the veils
And a man has crossed his shadow
On a pale yesterday
Set the setting sun tomorrow (came) late for the reeling evening breed of birds arising in the heat of the land leaving traces circled by that unguided hand

he stepped into parks spied the palms and the rainbows frightened by sparkling in the rivers of mud he tightened his gloves came crossing the hallway a halo of rain
he left at the counter
